Buyback Policy

GGU students can sell used textbooks back to the bookstore. There are several factors that determine whether the book can be bought back and how much the bookstore will pay, including:

- Condition: Any book being sold back must be in good shape, with binding, covers and every page intact. Excessive highlighting, underlining or other markings may decrease a book's buyback value.
- Course Materials Orders: If an instructor has requested the textbook for next term, then the value increases. Books falling into this category may be worth anywhere from 30 to 70 percent, or more, of the original purchase price. Generally speaking, textbooks will be purchased until we reach our shelf stock limit.
- Overstocks and Current Editions Not Being Used on Campus: If we have reached our limit on a particular title for next term, or if the book has not been requested for next term and is a current edition, we may still purchase it. The amount the bookstore will pay is based on various criteria including the national demand and the needs of other bookstores.
