

Golden Gate University School of Law Announces a Law and Policy Conference

FARMING AND FOOD: HOW WE GROW WHAT WE EAT

Friday, November 13, 2009 ~ 9:00am to 4:30pm
536 Mission Street, San Francisco

Cosponsors

Environmental Law Section of California State Bar · Environmental Law Section of Bar Association of San Francisco · Agriculture Subcommittee of Business Law Section of California State Bar · Fitzgerald Abbott & Beardsley LLP · Center for Food Safety · Peninsula Open Space Trust · Sustainable Agriculture Education · San Francisco Garden Resource Organization

Presenters

Susan Bragdon (CEC Maize and Biodiversity Advisory Group) · Lloyd Carter (California Save Our Streams Council) · George Kimbrell (Center for Food Safety) · Jude Koski (San Francisco Garden Resource Organization) · Sibella Kraus (Sustainable Agriculture Education-SAGE) · Michael Lozeau (Lozeau Drury LLP) · Sara Pasquinelli (Fitzgerald Abbott & Beardsley LLP) · Paul Ringgold (Peninsula Open Space Trust) · Jeff Welty (University of North Carolina School of Government)

Presentation Topics

Cattle Grazing on the Urban-Rural Fringe · Livestock Slaughterhouse Standards · Feedlot Runoff under the Clean Water Act · Grounds for Organic Decertification · California Central Valley Irrigation Subsidies · NEPA and Genetically Modified Crops · Mexico-U.S.Corn Trade · Seeds under International Law · New Ruralism and California's SB 375 · Page Street Community Garden

Registration and MCLE

This conference has been approved for 4.5 hours of MCLE credit (with GGU School of Law as the MCLE provider). For those attendees seeking MCLE credit, the conference registration fee is $60. For those attendees not seeking MCLE credit, the conference registration fee is $30. Registration is free for all students, whether enrolled at Golden Gate University or other institutions, that can provide a current student identification card. To register please contact Natascha Fastabend at 415.442.6604 or nfastabend@ggu.edu. Space may be limited so pre-registration is encouraged. For other inquiries regarding the conference program please contact conference director, Associate Professor Paul Kibel, at 415.442.6685 or pkibel@ggu.edu.

Made Possible by a Grant from the As You Sow Foundation